There Is a Lot of Here Here - The New York Times

Gertrude Stein (February 3, 1874 - July 27, 1946) was an American novelist, poet, playwright, and art collector. Born in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania in the Allegheny West neighborhood and raised in Oakland, California, Stein moved to Paris in 1903, and made France her home for the remainder of her life. She hosted a Paris salon, where the leading figures of modernism in literature and art, such ...

Stein can be an overwhelming presence Fortunately she started off simply enough, and readers are eased into her writing in this volume. The first novella, Q.E.D. , written in 1903 but not published until 1950 (in a limited edition, and under a different title), is a fairly straightforward narrative, straining too hard to follow in nineteenth century tradition.

Writings 1903-1932 - Gertrude Stein - Complete Review

About Gertrude Stein: Writings 1903-1932 (LOA #99) This Library of America volume, along with its companion, surveys a literary trajectory that from the beginning of the 20th century to the end of World War II marked Gertrude Stein as a fearless and uncompromising experimenter. She was also a master of anecdote and aphorism, many of whose phrases—from “rose is a rose is a rose” to “there is no there there” and “when this you see remember me”—have passed into the language.
