A few books demonstrate this: "Imitation of Christ" is one, and "Little Talks with God" is another. In the book, God explains to Catherine some of the meaning behind scripture and His plan for salvation. The depth of information is great. Although nothing was added to revelation, the insights I gained made scripture come alive for me.

Talk about God. One of the first things we need to do in helping our children build a relationship with God is to begin talking about God when they first begin to comprehend. Point out how God created food or the plants in your yard or the sunset and sunrise. As they mature, explain God's instructions on how to live.

God is seldom mentioned at TED, and Christian perspectives rarely shared (one TED talk from Christian Rupert Sheldrake, taking on Richard Dawkins' book The God Delusion, was infamously removed from the site after complaints from atheists). But amid all the scientists, business leaders and über-creatives, there are a few notable exceptions.

These words truly remind us that there is nothing we cannot take to God. "Now let us have a little talk with Jesus Let us tell Him all about our troubles He will hear our faintest cry and we will answer by and by Now when you feel a little prayer wheel turning You'll know a little fire is burning
